

TENERIFE, SUSTAINABLE PRACTICAL CASES OF STUDY

PRACTICAL TRAINING

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Tenerife looks towards the future with its eyes focussed on the environment. The Island is an expression of the balance between natural surroundings and sustainable development. Moreover, there are programmes on the island that seek to recover natural areas, as well as environmentally certified accommodation and a number of ecological projects involving gardens, transport, festivals... with a view to reinforcing other sustainability measures.

During the four days training the participants will discover the actions and projects that Tenerife is following towards sustainability. It includes practical visits in different locations to the main institutions, companies, associations and stakeholders cooperating and sharing best practices.

MAIN OBJECTIVES:

- To know practical examples of good practices in sustainability
- Nature connection and environmental consciousness
- To build professionals relationships and connections

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

- ✓ To establish long term cooperation with hosting companies and institutions for the future mobilities and projects of participants.
- ✓ To disseminate the result of the learning outcome as a teaching material for the students and to engage new students into sustainability actions.
- ✓ To learn about Spain implementation of the SDGs and specifically Tenerife as a sustainable destination.

TARGET GROUP:

This training course is designed for any member of an educational organisation: trainers, school management, administration staff, school/university teachers, marketing advisors, Erasmus+ Project Managers, International Offices staff, etc.

SPECIFICS:

This course consists of 4 days outdoors practical visits and morning activities until 13.30h, starting on Monday.

A minimum of three participants required, maximum eight.

COURSE FEE:

550€ + 7% tax (per person)

The price includes:

Welcome info-pack, teaching material, tour leader, visits and Europass Certificates of Attendance.

More information by email: info@tenerifejobtraining.com