Dear colleagues,

It is our pleasure to invite you to the UNIOS International Week, which will be organized at Josip Juraj Strossmayer University of Osijek, in Osijek, Croatia, from 06 - 10 June 2016.

Our International Week will be a great opportunity to meet and discuss future aspects of our cooperation, primarily through Erasmus+ Programme, and to tackle up-to-date issues related to efficiency of internationalization procedures of our institutions. Within our International Week, we would especially like to focus on the topics related to international curriculum and intercultural programs in academic communities, intercultural communication, potentials of Erasmus+ cooperation with partner countries, as well as on challenges that higher education faces during the immigration wave. Our meeting will be also a great chance for exchange of information about all aspects of students' mobility schemes.

Therefore, we cordially invite all academic and non-academic colleagues to join us at Josip Juraj Strossmayer University of Osijek for our International Week. Preliminary work program and social program is attached.

Participation in the UNIOS International Week is free of charge. Lunches, welcome dinner during the first working day, as well as most of the social program shall be provided by the host. The participants should cover their travel and accommodation costs, if possible from the Erasmus+ funds awarded by their home organizations.
